

Nancy Newby, PhD

President/CEO

Washington County Hospital

705 South Grand Ave

Nashville, IL 62263

618.327.2201

nnewby@washingtoncountyhospital.org

Nancy Newby is the President/CEO of Washington County Hospital, a rural Critical Access Hospital located in southern Illinois. She is very active in both the Illinois Hospital Association and the Illinois Critical Access Hospital Network. She has spent the last several years working on having a fully operational EHR and HIE in Washington County Hospital's rural health clinic and critical access hospital. She has 40 years of hospital nursing and administration experience. She is married, has four children and six grandsons.

Education:

- PhD Nursing, 1996
Saint Louis University; St. Louis, MO
- MSN, 1988
Southern Illinois University Edwardsville; Edwardsville, IL
- BSN, 1984
Saint Louis University; St. Louis, MO
- Diploma in Nursing, 1970
St. John's School of Nursing; Springfield, IL

Organizations & Affiliations:

- President of ICAHN for two terms and board member 8 years
- Board of Directors Illinois Hospital Association
- Fellow in American College of Healthcare Executives (FACHE)
- Leadership Council of American Heart Association
- Member of Illinois Hospital Association Quality Council
- Active in Nashville Chamber of Commerce
- Active in St. Ann's Catholic Church, Nashville
- Past Board member of American Cancer Society Southern Illinois Chapter
- Washington County Relay for Life Committee